

Arlotta Clip 3

[These facilitator notes provide commentary and ideas that might be helpful as you use these raw video clips with other educators.]

This clip reminds us how complicated questions and answers can be in the classroom. Do you allow questions throughout your lecture? On all topics? How do you handle what to answer, what to ask back to the class, and what to put in the “parking lot” for later? How do you handle offers that are not factually correct, or don’t head in the direction you are planning to go next? For how long do you field questions until you move on, even if there are more hands raised? We feel like this clip provides interesting instructional moves to be analyzed and discussed.
